VOLUME I.

SPRINGFIELD, KY., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19 1905.

GEORGE CLEMENTS

Elected Road Supervisor After a Two Days' Session of Fiscal Court—The Telephone Question Discussed.

As announced in the last issue of The Sun the Washington County Fiscal Court met in extra session last Thursday for the purpose of electing a road supervisor. It will be remembered that some time ago that tribunal had before it for consideration the question of roads and bridges. It was decided then that the Fiscal Court should elect a Supervisor of roads and pursuant to that action the court met Thursday. The election of a Supervisor was discussed at length by the members of the court, as were also plans for working the roads and the salary to be allowed the Supervisor. On Thursday afternoon a salary of $750 a year was agreed upon, but after quite a number of ballots upon the question of a Supervisor the court found itself hopelessly deadlocked and adjourned to meet again on Friday. There were quite a number of applicants for the place when court first convened but the fight narrowed down between George Clements and Barber. Mr. Clements finally winning out. Both are good men and either no doubt would have done the county a good service. Now that Mr. Clements has secured the position we predict that he will do his duty well. He is energetic and progressive and while it is probable that the court could have secured the services of a man equally as good as he, we feel quite sure that it could not have found one who would have been more conscientious in the performance of his duties, nor one who would have done the county a better service than Mr. Clements.

The court did not specifically define the duties of the Supervisor, part of them being fixed by law. However, the court further agreed to enter an order, designating his duties and responsibilities at the next regular meeting in May. The position will not be an easy one to fill, for the Supervisor will have under his care about 500 miles of road, over half of which is dirt road.

Mr. Clements will appoint Jack Sharpe, of Williamsburg, as his assistant. Mr. Sharpe has had experience in road building and will be a valuable assistant to the Supervisor.

The matter of the proposed new telephone system was discussed by the court, but no definite action was taken. It was decided to await the action of the City Council of Springfield and then act in accordance with the suggestions of the Council.

PRATHER'S CREEK.

Farmers are reasonably well up with their spring work in this section and have been plowing for some time. Several of our boys were in Springfield last Monday speulating.

Your correspondent enjoyed meeting and conversing with the Editor of The Sun while in Springfield Monday, and the Editor showed appreciation of the work done by your correspondent in the interest of The Sun.

That Cabbage Snake.

While in Springfield Monday I was interrogated by several relative to the rumor which has been afloat to the effect that one of the so-called cabbage snakes had been discovered in some cabbage after it had been cooked and part of which had been eaten by my family. Now, I wish to say that this story has no foundation beyond the fact that something resembling an insignificant wordworm was found in the cabbage. Furthermore, I desire to say to the readers of The Sun that, in the light of recent careful investigation by high authority on such subjects, which declares the "cabbage snake" to be a myth, I do not believe that such a reptile exists, and would advise all who are interested in the production of the popular vegetable to go right on in its cultivation just the same as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened.

G. H. CHRISTERSON.

To Elect School Trustees.

An election for the purpose of electing two school trustees for the Springfield Graded School will be held in Springfield Saturday, May 6, the terms of Messrs. C. J. Hayden and Robert A. Noe expiring on that date. Both Mr. Hayden and Mr. Noe will doubtless be elected for another year.

Death of J. M. McIntire.

Mr. John M. McIntire died at his home, four miles from Springfield, on the Bardstown pike, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock of a complication of diseases. Mr. McIntire had been in ill health for quite a while and his death was expected by friends and relatives. He was sixty-eight years old and had spent his entire life in Washington county, where he was well-known and honored by hundreds of people. Mr. McIntire was a devout member of the Catholic church, funeral services and burial occurring at St. Rose this morning at 10 o'clock. Surviving him are two sons and two daughters, his wife having died twenty years ago. The sons are J. H. McIntire, of this place, and Thos. K. McIntire, of Jackson county, Mo., and the daughters are Misses Josie and Leona, both of whom resided at the home of their father.

Easter services were conducted at the Presbyterian, Catholic and Baptist churches last Sunday. At the Catholic church Father Hennessey delivered an interesting and instructive sermon and the choir rendered some excellent Easter music.

An unusually large crowd heard Rev. Lattimer at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. The church was appropriately decorated and the services throughout were very impressive. The choir rendered special Easter music, which was highly appreciated by the large audience. In the evening Presiding Elder Linebaugh, of the Duncan (Oklahoma) district, who was to preach at the Methodist church, consented to occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church, and delivered an entertaining discourse.

Rev. Williams preached both morning and evening at the Baptist church, delivering two instructive sermons.

An Enjoyable Entertainment.

One of the most enjoyable entertainments given at the Springfield Opera House in a long time was that given by Miss Katherine Raye, of Lebanon, assisted by Miss Clara Von Phul, of Cincinnati, on last Monday evening. "The Other Woman," a one act play, was rendered in a manner which was highly pleasing to the audience. Both young ladies are true artists and they have a bright future before them in their lines of work. The music for the occasion was furnished by Mr. McHenry McChord, also of Lebanon, and this, too, was much appreciated by those present.

Joseph Jefferson Dead.

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 22.—Joseph Jefferson, the eminent actor, died at his home, "The Keefs," at Palm Beach, at 6:15 o'clock this evening. The end came after a day of unconsciousness, and after a heroic struggle of days which had exhausted his vitality. At his deathbed were his wife, his sons, Charles B. and Frank Jefferson; his nurse, Miss Mabel Bingham; Dr. R. B. Potter and his faithful old servant, Carl Kettler.

Daniel Boone's Reel.

Mr. C. W. Noe has in his possession a curiosity in the way of a fishing reel. It is over one hundred years old, it having come into his possession about twenty-five years ago. The reel was found on Little Beech, near Springfield, seventy-five years before it came into Mr. Noe's possession. On the reel are the initials "D. B." (Daniel Boone, please observe). It is made of wood, iron and copper, and runs as smoothly as a ball-bearing B. and B. reel. The frame is made of copper, the spool of wood, and the handle is "artistically" constructed of a large forged nail. The reel, while not in use, is on display at Mr. Ed. M. Russell's jewelry store. Examine it very closely, and at the same time draw largely from your imagination, and you may be able to see these words: "Reeled a 20-pound cat and kilt six injuns today."

MURDER MYSTERY

Fishermen On Big Ugly Creek. Near Huntington, W. Va., Make Ghastly Find—Horrible Crime Without Clue to Perpetrators.

Huntington, W. Va., April 22.—One of the ghastliest crimes in the annals of this city and county was enacted some time during last night and revealed to the community this morning by the rays of the Easter sun.

Bound hand and foot and securely tied to a tree on the bank of Big Ugly Creek, fishermen hunting for a good place to cast their line early to-day found the body of a man. The spectacle first met their gaze while they were some distance away, and fancying that the man had been the hapless victim of robbers they hallooed to him: "Hi, there! What's the matter?"

Obtaining no response they concluded that the fellow had probably been not only bound hand and foot, but gagged in addition.

The fishermen hurried to the tree to release him from his terrible plight.

Coming fast to face with the victim, of some atrocious, vengeful criminals, they observed that the handle of a dagger protruded from his left breast, and served to pin thereon a sheet of paper bearing a scrawl, written with a stick dipped into the victim's blood, as follows:

"You will bother us no more."

A mystery surrounds the affair, as the man had never been seen in that vicinity previously and no clue can be obtained as to his identity. In addition to the stab through the heart the throat had been cut from ear to ear and the head had been thrown back, leaving the horrible gash wide open. The clothing of the corpse was stiff with blood, that had flowed down ward after the first terrible sports, and the life had in feet away, mottling the ground about the tree.

The deed is attributed to the gang which has terrorized that section of the county for years, although there are no clues.

It is presumed that the murdered man was a detective sent there to ferret out some crime. There were no papers on the body by which the victim could be traced, even the tags bearing the names of the makers of the clothing having been torn off. The authorities believe that he was murdered before he was tied to the tree.

How Eggs Are Hatched In China.

A curious method of hatching eggs has been adopted in China. The eggs are placed in tiers in a large basket twice the size of an ordinary barrel which is thickly lined with hay and carefully closed from the air by a tight fitting cover of twisted straw. In three days' time the eggs are taken out and replaced in a different order, so that the surface being put in the lower tier. This is repeated every third day for a fortnight, when the eggs are removed from the basket and placed on a shelf in another room, being carefully covered with bran. In a day or two the chickens chip the shells and make their appearance in the world. The success of this method is attributed to the fact that the animal heat of the egg, being retained by the basket, which is formed of material not conducting caloric, is sufficient to support animal life and develop it.

It has been discovered that Senator Chauncey M. Depew bears a striking resemblance to an ancient monarch of the Babylonians, King Dadda, or Dadda, who ruled nearly 6,000 years ago.

The statue of this potentate of a honary antiquity was dug up recently in Babylon by Professor Banks of the Chicago university's Assyrian expedition, and it is declared to be the oldest sculptured figure of a monarch in existence.

The Farm and Other Matters

As Discussed By J. S. TRIGG.

The south is trying melons, peaches, Bermuda onions and several other crops in place of cotton. To the benefit of the soil and the growers as well.

It is always hard to make us believe that a farm carries a big mortgage which has nest and well painted buildings and carries well bred domestic animals.

When fourteen ears of corn will plant one acre of ground it seems foolish not to absolutely know that each ear of that corn is sound and reliable and of high germinating power.

The adult apple tree is always grateful for and responsive to good culture and fertilization. Many people are careful to cultivate and fertilize their young orchards, but entirely neglect the old one.

Occasionally one traveling through the west will see a big pile of corn lying out on the ground entirely unprotected. It means that the owner raises too much corn or that he is dead shiftless, usually the latter.

It may be a season when the question of conserving moisture in the soil will be one of vital importance to the crops. The value of a dust mulch produced by constant surface cultivation is invaluable for all cultivated crops. The garden may really be watered with a hand rake intelligently used.

The general health of the American people would be better if they would eat twice as much corn bread, corn cakes and other products of corn as they now do. Their stomachs would keep in better trim and their teeth would last longer. A steady fine rain diet makes lots of work for the doctors.

Not less than 125,000 corn growers in the state of Iowa will have listened to the improved method of testing seed corn by the time the last of the trips of the "corn specialists" over five trunk lines is complete. It is confidently and reasonably expected that this good work will result in a better stand and better crop of corn.

Today the well bred sheep is the most profitable animal kept on the farm. Mutton lends both best and pork in price per pound, while wool is being contracted for at excellent prices. The right sort of sheep will this year return $2 in wool product and a lamb which will sell for $6 when nine

Married In Louisville.

(Kentucky Standard.)

Miss Lillian Colvin and James Muir Carothers were married in Louisville yesterday by the Rev. John K. Mason, of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. The contracting parties are both eighteen years old. They were accompanied to Louisville by three Miss Campbells, of Springfield, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Fannie Carothers. Upon their return here last night they were entertained at the residence of Mr. Carothers' parents with a three-course dinner, at which only some of the relatives and a few friends were present. The dinner was an elegant affair, the color scheme being green and pink. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Carothers, and is employed at Grigby's warehouse. The bride is a daughter of W. A. Colvin and wife, and is an attractive girl. They will live at their home with the groom's parents.

Judge H. V. Freeman, of the Illinois Appellate Court, First district, declared that overzealousness on the part of police and prosecuting attorneys has resulted in the hanging of many innocent persons in Illinois.

Interesting Case Decided.

A judgment of the Nelson Circuit Court was reversed by the Court of Appeals in a case of the Commonwealth against T. D. Williams and remanded the action for further proceedings. The judgment is of wide interest, inasmuch as it affects every city in the State. In the case the validity of an ordinance of the town of Bardstown prohibiting the sale of liquors on Sundays and election days on doctors' prescriptions was attacked. Williams was fined in the Police court of the town for violating this ordinance. The Circuit Court reversed the inferior court and Commonwealth appealed to the Court of Appeals. In the opinion delivered Judge Hobson says the ordinance is valid, and that the question of whether the physicians acted in good faith in prescribing the liquor is one for a jury to decide.

Bouquet For Judge Thurman.

Speaking of the inconvenience of leaving home while the grand jury is in session, the Tunnel Hill correspondent to the Green County Record offers the following wholesome advice: "The best remedy is to keep away from places where the law is violated and places where we will not be placed in the position of leaving home while the grand jury is sitting, or indicting some friend." The same correspondent also throws this bouquet at Judge Thurman: Judge Thurman has already given evidence to the fact that everybody must obey the process of his court, and the man who avoids the officer armed with a subpoena for his appearance before the court or grand jury, is just as guilty as if he refused to obey when summoned. The fact is, Judge Thurman is making a good Judge, and the people who are interested in morality, decency and decorum, are very loud in their praise of him, and the course he is pursuing. There was a time in this State when none but the upright, law-abiding, sober, man donned the judicial ermine, and the people hail with delight a return of these primitive ideas. Another thing, Judge Thurman holds the scale of justice equally poised, and hews to the line, also giving great emphasis to the fact that he has no pets or favorites among the lawyers or citizens. There has been a time in some districts when attorneys have been employed on account of the pull they had with the Judge, and not on account of their legal ability. "All lawyers look alike to Judge Thurman," and with that assurance the lawyer now takes pleasure in preparing his case, knowing that it will be tried according to the law and the testimony.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs, and elderly people buy it for lagrip," say Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but that this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by C. J. Haydon.

(Wright or Not?)

(Green Bag.)

[In the case of the Harvey Steel Company vs. United States, the Court of Claims recently rendered a judgment by a majority of four of the five judges, the majority opinion being written by Nott, Chief Justice, and a dissenting opinion by Wright, justice. The following lines are dedicated to Justice Wright.]

That Wright is Wright and Nott is Nott, Logicians must concede.
That Nott is right and Wright is not, Four judges have decreed.

That Nott is right and Wright is not, We all must now agree;
Then Nott is right and Wright is Nott—The same thing, to us, is true.

If Nott is Nott and Wright is Nott, It comes without a wrench
That we have not, if not two Notts, Five judges on the bench.

If only four, as shown before, And three with Nott, what right has Wright
The adjournment is unanimous, And Wright's dissent is naught.

The knot is not, is Nott not Nott? But is Wright right or not?
Is Nott not right? What right has Wright
To write that Nott is not?
Do I do right to write to Wright?
This most unrighteous rot?
